

Placing People First

Bulletin-August 2017

Welcome to our August bulletin. I feel it's timely to remind you, our valued clients, of how buoyant the employment sector is, with a shortage of top candidates being an ongoing challenge in many sectors. This requires a sense of urgency in processing favourable candidates through the interview process to reference checks and offer as quickly as possible, as some candidates are finding themselves close to two or three offers, often taking the first at hand. Of course we are not suggesting any shortening of our robust recruitment process or yours, but rather an expedient timeline to secure high value candidates for your business. As we enter month 2 of Q2 and with an election looming, not to mention the chaos of global politics I wish you all the best in sustaining and growing your business. We are here to help you!
